“Euro 2020 Predictions”

I. Organizer / Purpose

MIS Group, head office 85 rue Nationale, 59800 Lille, France, is organizing a “Euro 2020 Predictions” game during the official “Euro 2020” football championship from June 11 to July 11, 2021. The game is intended for members (panellists) of any website belonging to the MIS Group company.

Apple or Google are in no way involved in these prizes.

II. General Terms and Conditions of Participation – Registration Procedures

This game is exclusively reserved for natural persons aged 16 or over at participation deadline residing in France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Switzerland, the United Kingdom or Italy, not legally incapacitated, with access to the internet and having an account on one of the partner sites (pipeul.com; testerdesproduits.fr; reunionsdeconsommateurs.com; devenirclientmystere.com; avispanel.com; surveyfriends.co.uk; paidfocusgroup.co.uk; paidproducttesting.co.uk; panelopinion.com; testailprodotta.it; & paneleuropa.it).

The organizer, the organizer's employees and family members or any other person professionally connected to the game are excluded from taking part.

The game will run from June 1, 2021, to July 11, 2021, the date and time of French connection being taken as proof.

To take part in the game, the participant must predict the score(s) of the match(es) of their choice during the official “Euro 2020” competition. The tipsters will be ranked and updated after each match.

The points awarded to each participant will be as follows:

- 5 points if the participant predicted the correct result
- or
- 2 points if the participant predicted the correct goal difference
- or
- 1 point if the participant predicted the correct winner (including draws)

The score used is the one at the end of the match, including any extra time but excluding any penalty shoot outs at the end of extra time.

- For example, let’s say the Belgium-Germany match ends with Belgium winning 3-1.
- Marie predicted Belgium 2 Germany 0. She got the wrong score but the right goal difference and so she wins 2 points.
- James predicted Belgium 0 Germany 2. He didn’t get the right score, the right goal difference, or the right winner, so he wins 0 points.

- Jo predicted Belgium 3 Germany 1. He predicted the correct score and wins 5 points.
- Giorgio predicted Belgium 5 Germany 0. He didn't get the right score or the right goal difference, but he did pick the right winner, so he wins 1 point.

At the end of the event, the winners will be determined according to their ranking. The top 50 will receive a prize as listed below (Article III).

If several participants win the same number of points, there will be a draw to decide between them.

By taking part in this game, participants provide the organizer with personal data. They agree that the organizer may use their data and, for a period of 99 years following completion of the game, may claim no other compensation than that of taking part in the game.

Only one participation per person is allowed for the duration of the game. In the event of non-compliance with the rules (e.g. multiple entries), the organizer reserves the right to cancel a participant's entry.

Multiple entries from professional groups, consumer groups or third parties will not be accepted.

The organizer reserves the right to check the accuracy of the data provided by the participant. Any person who does not meet the conditions of participation will be excluded from the game and will not be allowed to win a prize under any circumstance.

The organizer reserves the right to exclude any participant who has provided a false identity or false address, who has tried to cheat or, more broadly, contravenes one or more the rules' provisions.

The organizer may not be held responsible for registrations either late, incomplete or lost whether due to technical or other reasons.

Participation in a form other than that provided for in these rules will not be accepted, and will thus be considered null and void and not give rise to any reimbursement of connection fees.

III. Presentation of the prizes and designation of the winner

The closing date of the game will be July 11, 2020, on completion of the Euro final.

The winners will be announced at the end of the game unless there is a tie in participant point number. In this case, a draw will be held on July 12, 2021, and the results announced that day.

The components of the prize are not covered by any warranty and cannot be exchanged or returned.
